Main Street Announces Preliminary Estimate of Fourth Quarter 2017 Results

Announces Federal Tax Treatment of 2017 Dividends

Announces Fourth Quarter and Full Year 2017 Earnings Release and Conference Call Schedule

HOUSTON — January 16, 2018 — Main Street Capital Corporation (NYSE: MAIN) (“Main Street”) is pleased to announce its preliminary operating results for the fourth quarter of 2017, the tax treatment of its 2017 dividends and its fourth quarter and full year 2017 earnings release and conference call schedule.

Preliminary Estimates of Fourth Quarter 2017 Results

Main Street’s preliminary estimate of fourth quarter 2017 distributable net investment income (“DNII”), which is net investment income before non-cash, share-based compensation expense, is $0.68 to $0.69 per share.<sup>(1)</sup> Main Street’s preliminary estimate of net investment income is $0.63 to $0.64 per share. The preliminary estimate of DNII significantly exceeds both the regular monthly dividends paid per share for the fourth quarter of 2017 of $0.57 per share and the previously provided DNII guidance range for the fourth quarter of 2017 of between $0.61 and $0.63 per share.

Main Street’s preliminary estimate of net asset value (“NAV”) per share as of December 31, 2017 is $23.48 to $23.58. After adjustment for the semi-annual supplemental dividend paid in December 2017 of $0.275 per share, this represents an increase of approximately $0.74 to $0.84 per share, or 3.2% to 3.6%, from the reported NAV per share of $23.02 as of September 30, 2017. Main Street estimates that the increase in NAV per share is primarily due to net unrealized appreciation relating to its Lower Middle Market portfolio investments and the accretive impact from equity issued under its at-the-market equity program. Furthermore, Main Street estimates that approximately 40% to 50% of the net unrealized appreciation relating to its Lower Middle Market portfolio investments is due to the favorable impact from the recently passed U.S. tax reform on the valuations of its equity investments in Lower Middle Market portfolio companies.

Federal Tax Treatment of 2017 Dividends

Main Street has posted information regarding the U.S. federal income tax characteristics of its dividends that are attributable to 2017 on its website under “2017 Form 1099 Information” (<http://ir.mainstcapital.com/tax-information>). Main Street paid dividends totaling $2.79 per share that are attributable to 2017 for tax purposes, with approximately 17.6% of such dividends taxed as long-term capital gains, approximately 3.0% taxed as qualified dividends and approximately 79.4% taxed as ordinary income. Long-term capital gains and qualified dividends paid to non-corporate taxpayers (including individuals) qualify for favorable tax treatment under the Internal Revenue Code (“IRC”) and, for 2017, will generally be subject to a maximum 20% U.S. federal income tax rate (plus a 3.8% Medicare surtax, if applicable).

Federal Tax Treatment of 2017 Dividends — Non-U.S. Shareholders

Non-U.S. resident and foreign corporation shareholders (“Non-U.S. Shareholders”) in a Regulated Investment Company (“RIC”) such as Main Street are exempt from U.S. withholding tax on both “interest-related” dividends and short-term capital gains in accordance with the IRC sections 871(k) and 881(e). In addition, Non-U.S. Shareholders in a RIC are also exempt from U.S. withholding tax on long-term capital gains. Main Street paid dividends totaling $2.79 per share that are attributable to 2017 for tax purposes, with approximately 75.8% of such dividends relating to “interest-related” dividends, short-term capital gains and long-term capital gains. See the “Tax Treatment of 2017 Dividends for Non-U.S. Shareholders” posted on Main Street’s website for more details (<http://ir.mainstcapital.com/tax-information>).

To the extent Non-U.S. Shareholder taxes were withheld on dividends distributed, this information may be considered in connection with any claims for refund of taxes made with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. Non-U.S. Shareholders should contact their tax advisor with any questions regarding this information.

(1) Distributable net investment income is net investment income as determined in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, or U.S. GAAP, excluding the impact of share-based compensation expense which is non-cash in nature. Main Street believes presenting distributable net investment income and the related per share amount is useful and appropriate supplemental disclosure for analyzing its financial performance since share-based compensation does not require settlement in cash. However, distributable net investment income is a non-U.S. GAAP measure and should not be considered as a replacement for net investment income and other earnings measures presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Instead, distributable net investment income should be reviewed only in connection with such U.S. GAAP measures in analyzing Main Street's financial performance. In order to reconcile estimated distributable net investment income per share to estimated net investment income share in accordance with U.S. GAAP, $0.04 to $0.05 per share of estimated share-based compensation expense is added back to calculate estimated distributable net investment income per share.
